

2009 ANNUAL CONFERENCE ON HOARDING AND CLUTTERING

Recipient Of The National Mental Health Association's 2006 Innovation In Programming Award

Thursday, November 5, 9AM-4:30 PM ♦ Saint Mary's Cathedral, 1111 Gough Street, San Francisco

INVITATION TO BE AN EXHIBITOR

Participate in the award-winning conference on hoarding and cluttering as an exhibitor!

Compulsive hoarding and cluttering refers to the acquisition of and failure to discard a large number of possessions, which appear to be useless or of limited value, in an attempt to decrease stress and anxiety. It is often a feature of several psychiatric disorders such as Obsessive-Compulsive Disorder, Attention Deficit Disorder and Major Depression, and can be caused or aggravated by problems associated with increasing age or physical disabilities. Compulsive hoarding and cluttering is a issue that has been featured on The Oprah Winfrey Show, Dr. Phil and The New York Times. Over one million people are affected by compulsive hoarding and cluttering in the nation.

The Mental Health Association of San Francisco will be holding its 12th Annual Conference on Hoarding and Cluttering on Thursday, November 5th to address this serious and prevalent problem that can potentially lead to eviction and homelessness. This conference was awarded the 2006 Innovation in Programming Award by Mental Health America (formerly known as the National Mental Health Association) and presents cutting-edge solutions for compulsive hoarding and cluttering.

MHA-SF is offering a limited number of Exhibitor Packages for this year's conference on hoarding and cluttering, which includes an exhibition table, two conference registrations and a listing on the conference webpage. See the next page for more details about the exhibitor package.
